Possible replies

1~13

1. Sure! We've got a chance to practice lexicals and learn them better.
2. It's just that I'm not going to be able to see you in class during the winter break.
3. My mother told me wanted this done and she wanted that done and it took me all night.
4. Yes. If I get married, I won't have my mother making me work through the night.
5. Absolutely. I think you're a top-notch student.
6. No doubt in my mind. S/He's the very best.
7. It breaks their heart to see their relative leave.
8. Oh, yes! And it makes me feel so-o-o sad to think that we won't be using it in a few days.
9. What do you mean, "mop the floor"?
10. Memorize the AKL text? What (on earth) are you talking about? [Don't use this in a formal relationship or to someone in higher social position.]
11. I'm sorry. I've made [I have] arrangements to meet a friend after class.

14~26

1. Let's set it up for December 22.
2. We're supposed to take it the day after the last class.
3. If you tease me, you are amusing yourself at my expense.
4. I'm terribly sorry. I hope I didn't inconvenience you. I must have gotten mixed up on the date.
5. He gets upset when he thinks that the student didn't bother to find the appropriate word.
6. I'd like to move it back to February 28.
7. So what if I did? [Confrontational—be careful who you say this to!]
8. What about my hair?
9. The polite thing to do is to get in touch with the teacher before class and let him know you're not coming.
10. I certainly can, and I totally empathize with you. You're breaking up with her because she left you waiting all alone for two hours.
11. Sure! I'll have my driver pick you up at your home in my Benz and take you to school every day. Would you like him to pick you up at school in the afternoon and drive you home?
12. What does marketing have to do with English?
